

What kind of nerd expects to find a job on the net?

When you start tapping into taps.com, you'll find that the answer is a surprisingly large pool of well educated energetic professionals.

The vast majority already have a promising career underway; some 90% live within the EU and many offer language skills. Over 80% are educated to degree level - and have the valuable IT skills needed for the 21st century.

They already know that taps.com may very well hold the key to their next career move - and for that reason nearly 300,000 active jobseekers visit our site each month.

If you'd like to find out more about the many different services taps.com offers to employers and job seekers - call now for further information on 0171 493 1997.

Alternatively email: frontdesk@taps.com

Or tap into our website: <http://taps.com>

taps.com

Start tapping into taps

