

What's the best way to download the top brains in IT?

When you start tapping into taps.com you'll quickly discover what makes it such an ideal source of IT specialists, analyst programmers or project managers.

For here in a service that could be tailor-made for your task, you will find the means to communicate details of all your permanent vacancies to an audience of around 300,000 active jobseekers.

Some 90% live within the EU, many offering language skills - and over 80% are educated to degree level.

Even more to the point, they possess the demonstrable IT skills needed for the specialist markets you serve.

And by using taps.com services you can reach these highly qualified candidates within hours - via on-line services that are inherently so much faster than traditional media.

These include taps.com Web Hunt - which can search the world wide web for candidates with particularly rare skills.

And our exclusive Jobs by Email service which informs individual users of new job opportunities meeting their pre-stated criteria literally within minutes of the jobs being posted.

It's not unknown for taps.com to produce exactly the right applicant on the same day that a job was posted.

If you'd like to find out more about the many different services taps.com offers to recruitment agencies and specialists - call now for further information on 0171 493 1997.

Alternatively email : frontdesk@taps.com

Or tap into our website: <http://taps.com>

taps.com

Start tapping into taps

